

NPG Salutes Our Nation's Veterans

For generations, American service men and women have worked to protect the United States from many external forces. Collectively, they have traveled the world many times over, faced opposition from our worst enemies, and many gave the ultimate sacrifice - all to protect the American Dream of freedom, democracy, and a good quality of life for all.

Sadly, many dangerous forces within our nation today threaten the very liberties our veterans worked so hard to defend. With our southern border in absolute turmoil, environmental damage continuing to engulf the nation, and serious economic concerns, living the American Dream is quickly becoming a nightmare for many.

Negative Population Growth thanks our nation's 18 million veterans for working so hard to defend the United States and its people. NPG also works to protect our nation for the very long term by calling for policies designed to slow, halt, and eventually reverse population growth to allow our nation to slowly, over the course of several generations, shrink to a smaller, truly sustainable size.
